

The following is taken from an editorial in the Laurens Free Silver Democrat:

"We say it with shame and mortification, but we warn the silver democrats of Laurens county, both reformers and conservatives, that if they would leave an inheritance from financial oppression to their children, let Irby severely alone. We know what we are talking about, we have never yet deceived the reformers of Laurens county or of the State, and at the proper time we will let them know more of Irby's trickery than even he himself has ever dreamed we know."

We suspect that the mutual revelation of the Free Silver Democrat and Senator Irby will be of interest, absorbing interest. When these two brilliant authorities get down to the task of telling what they know of each other, it will be necessary to fumigate Laurens county three times a day.

Not on the earth or in the waters beneath are there two doughty champions like the Free Silver Democrat and Senator Irby. The fun in Laurens will be fast and furious this summer.—Charleston Evening Post.
